Germany Tries To Cheat On Armaments Charges Retiring French Minister

Lefevre's Revelations Of Deception By Ex-Enemy Ate Supported By Reporter-General On Military Bills

(Reuter's French Wireless)

Paris, Dec. 23.—In the course of a debate on foreign policy in the Chamber of Deputies today, M. Andre Lefevre, ex-Minister of War, explained his resignation of the War portfolio, which, he said, was mainly due to the Finance Ministry's demand that the army estimates should be cut down, a policy which he considered a policy with which he disagreed.

M. Lefevre asserted that Germany was trying to reconstitute her armaments, as was shown by the fact that she still possessed tens of thousands of machine-guns, millions of rifles and a large number of field-guns.

Germany, he proceeded, M. Lefevre, was also concealing 1,100 gun breeches in secret depots, whilst not a single model had been discovered of her two latest machine-guns, one of which was capable of firing 1,500 shots a minute against aircraft, and the other was intended for firing on trenches from aircraft.

URGES NEW POLICY
M. Lefevre bought the Government to come to an understanding with the Allies for the establishment of a permanent control over Germany's armaments, urging a revision of the Treaty of Versailles on this point.

Furthermore, the ex-Minister of War asked for the maintenance of the military forces which were indispensable, a farcical demand between Germany and Bolshevism was to be kept up.

Paris, Dec. 23.—M. Andre Lefevre's revelations in the Chamber of Deputies, secret efforts to rebuild her armaments were supported by M. Jean Fabry, deputy for the Seine, who is Reporter-General on military bills on the Army Committee of the Chamber.

"It is both obvious and inevitable that Germany should be trying to cheat," said M. Fabry. The deputy said he was an advocate of the policy of execution of the treaty with all necessary guarantees. On the other hand, he pointed out that danger might be ahead, if the army bills before the Chamber were carried through.

FRANCE PROTECTED
He reminded the House that the Germans, who had formerly been 300 kilometers away from Paris, had been pushed back to 700 kilometers distance from the French capital.

"In the event of mobilisation," declared M. Fabry, "France has no longer to fear invasion of her factories or loss of her sources of supply. She has space and time in front of her."

Paris, Dec. 25.—The Premier, M. Georges Leygues, replied to M. Andre Lefevre, ex-Minister of War, in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday, on the subject of Germany's disarmament.

The Premier reviewed the work of the Allied Commissions of control, carried out in the teeth of German opposition. He quoted statistics of the war material surrendered or destroyed since June and showed that the results obtained during the last six months had been particularly important.

"France," pursued M. Leygues, "is pacific, but she must have at her disposal the means to impose, in case of necessity, the execution of the treaty and to put down attempts at aggression."

MUST CARRY OUT TREATY
M. Leygues went on to point out that under post-war conditions, the new military organization scheme now before the Chamber might confidently be regarded as offering effective guarantee of France's security.

"France means to have the treaty carried out," declared the Premier in conclusion, "but she does not wish to maintain in the world a perpetual state of war. Even the most ardent patriotism must observe moderation."

the German army to a strength of 100,000 men, as required by the Spa agreement, has been completed.

London, December 24.—Diplomatic circles are disposed to regard M. Lefevre's speech in the French Chamber on Germany's capacity for mischief as too alarmist, though it certainly has some solid basis. This fact is borne out by the knowledge possessed by leading Entente diplomats of the present existence, of a composite and well-equipped German force in Bavaria, described as "Citizen Guards."

Representations in regard to this force have been made by the Allied Mission, but these have evoked no satisfactory reply, the German contention being that the force is necessary owing to local conditions.

JAPS NEGOTIATE NEW U.S. TREATY
Agreement Proposed To Give All Nationals The Same Rights In America

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Dec. 26.—The negotiations between Mr. Roland S. Morris (American Ambassador to Japan) and Baron Shidehara (Japanese Ambassador to the United States) are nearing completion, and a report upon them will soon be presented to their respective Governments.

They propose the amendment of the existing treaty, the granting to Japanese in the United States of the civil rights accorded to the nationals of all other countries, and the "Gentlemen's Agreement," excluding absolutely the emigration of Japanese labor. Japan does not ask for the right of nationalization.

If these proposals are adopted, the amendment would affect the California land legislation respecting Japanese, but California would be free to exclude all Orientals from the ownership of land by legislation against all aliens, thus abolishing the discrimination against the Japanese after the colonial model.

It is suggested that the "Gentlemen's Agreement" would nullify the provisions of the existing agreement, which permits Japanese settlers to bring in their wives and families, while it would continue to admit the student and merchant class.

Dublin, December 26.—The editor of Freeman's Journal has been sentenced to twelve months imprisonment, and the paper fined £3,000 for publishing unfounded statements regarding alleged dockings at Dublin Barracks.

New York, Dec. 26.—The Cork correspondent of the Associated Press states that 30 armed and masked raiders inflicted extensive damage on the premises of the Cork Examiner with hammers, explosives and fire, evidently owing to resentment at the recent attitude of that paper.

Japanese Arrested For Broome Riots
(Reuter's Service)

Perth, W. Australia, December 23.—Following the recent race riots between Japanese and Malays at Broome, a pearling station in the north of this State, special constables are controlling the port. Over 20 Japanese have been arrested.

Melbourne, December 24.—The warship Geranium has been ordered to Broome, presumably as a precaution against any further outbreak of trouble between the Japanese and Malays there.

New York, Dec. 25.—The Government is suing Mr. John D. Rockefeller for $292,678, on the ground that his income tax return was "incorrect misleading and false."

BARON HAYASHI TELLS OF JAPAN'S ECONOMIC AIMS

Peace And Legitimate Trade Expansion Desired By Nation, He Says

(Reuter's Service)

London, December 24.—Baron Hayashi, Japanese delegate to the League of Nations Assembly, who has arrived here, states that he is very satisfied with the results of the Assembly. There are abundant signs, he says, that in the fullness of time, the stupendous machinery of peace will function smoothly.

No nation more earnestly desires peace and an opportunity for legitimate economic expansion than Japan, Baron Hayashi declares. Japan's policy, he asserts, has always been directed towards maintaining friendly relations with China and the United States, while her alliance with Great Britain is a source of satisfaction to the whole Japanese nation.

"Japan's hopes," says the Japanese diplomat, "are fixed on a peaceful economic and social evolution of the Far-Eastern peoples. Japan has no intention of setting the pace in the race of armaments. Her naval program is a measure of defense such as is natural to an island empire."

Japan would always be pleased to join any discussions between the nations of the League on disarmament. Obviously such discussion would depend on the inclusion of all the great nations in the League.

Paris, December 25.—M. Viviani yesterday reported to the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Deputies on the League Assembly at Geneva, and the work accomplished by the French delegation there.

M. Viviani drew a striking picture of what the League might achieve in the future, with the assistance of the United States.

He appealed for "credit and confidence" for an undertaking which, though young, possessed the potentiality of creating the greatest moral authority in the world that had ever existed, by drawing nations closer together and accustoming them to think in common.

General Cox Makes Mesopotamia Report
(Reuter's Service)

London, December 23.—A White Paper has been issued dealing with the situation in Mesopotamia. It includes a statement by Major General Sir Percy Cox, who reports that the pacification of Mesopotamia has progressed satisfactorily, that it has been possible to declare an amnesty in the recently disturbed areas of the Middle Euphrates where the inhabitants have resumed their peaceful vocations.

Sir Percy Cox adds that the Council of State has appointed an expert committee to draft a scheme for the organization of local forces to replace the British army of occupation.

Rome, December 23.—The Y.M.C.A. is specifically mentioned in a decree of the Holy Office asking bishops to watch "organisations which, while professing absolute freedom of thought in religious matters, instill indifference and apathy to the Catholic religion into the minds of their adherents."

The decree mentions the Y.M.C.A., saying that it is upheld by many Catholics who are ignorant of its real nature, and declaring that it corrupts the faith of youths.

Monarch Points Out Necessity Of Re-Establishing Foreign Trade

(Reuter's Service)

London, Dec. 24.—Parliament was prorogued from midnight last night until February 15.

The King's prerogative speech, referring to foreign relations, says that the situation in Greece will require the earnest attention of the Government, who in conjunction with the Allies, will endeavor to reach a solution compatible with their joint responsibilities.

His Majesty trusts that trade will shortly recommence with Russia and that this will lead to an era of peace. It is most important, however, the speech declares, that Poland and her neighbors should compose their political differences and devote their undivided energies to producing internal stability and economic reconstruction.

Referring to the British acceptance of mandates for Mesopotamia, Palestine, German South West Africa and ex-German possessions in the Pacific, the King says: "It will be the high task of all my Governments to superintend and assist the development of these countries according to their varying degrees of advancement for the benefit of the inhabitants and the general welfare of mankind."

ASKS FOR HARMONY
On the subject of the League of Nations, the King earnestly hopes that the spirit of harmony and goodwill between nations manifested at the Assembly at Geneva is an augury of the value of the League as a force for co-operation and peace throughout the world.

Referring to the return of the Prince of Wales from his tour of Australasia and the West Indies, His Majesty expresses the most lively gratification at the enthusiastic affection with which the Prince was everywhere received. His Majesty is confident that the Prince of Wales has done much to strengthen the mutual sympathy and trust which cement the Empire.

With regard to expenditure arising from the war, the King says that the difficulties which are common to the whole world have nowhere been met so successfully as in Great Britain.

His Majesty, referring to Ireland, expresses the hope that the new Government of Ireland Act, "the fruit of over 30 years of ceaseless controversy," will finally bring unity and friendship between all the peoples of the Kingdom.

CONSIDERS NAVAL PROBLEMS
The speech states that the Government are carefully and anxiously considering the question of naval strength as affected by the latest development of naval warfare.

His Majesty is glad to believe that the difficulties which beset his people during the war, especially in industrial affairs, are giving place to better relations between employers and employees.

"The darkest cloud on the horizon is the growing unemployment," the speech declares. "It springs less from internal causes than from the contraction of our

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Dec. 27.—The Japanese Legation, replying to the Vaischiapou's Note of December 14 regarding the escape of Hsu Shu-tseng, says the Chinese Note is practically a repetition of the Note of November 20 and was fully answered in the previous Japanese Notes.

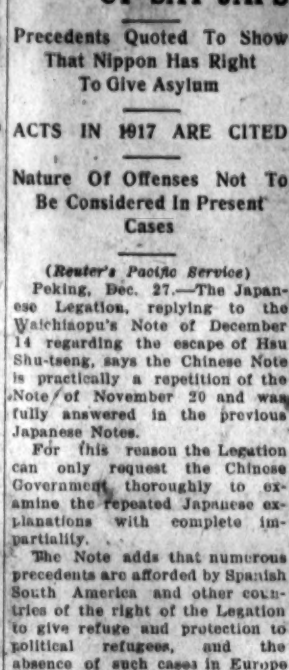

For this reason the Legation can only request the Chinese Government thoroughly to examine the repeated Japanese explanations with complete impartiality.

The Note adds that numerous precedents are afforded by Spanish South America and other countries of the right of the Legation to give refuge and protection to political refugees, and the absence of such cases in Europe and America is simply due to the fact that the political situation has not necessitated such steps on the ground of humanity.

The Note further cites as remarkable the instances that occurred in 1917 when Kang Yu-wei, Li Yuan-hung and Chang Hsun received refuge in the American, Japanese and Netherlands Legations, respectively. The Note calls attention to the fact that in these cases the political motive of seeking protection or the political position of the refugee naturally did not enter into the question.

The Note concludes by repeating that the Legation cannot agree to any request for handing over the remaining Anfuites, whether guilty of an ordinary criminal offence or not.

American Group Representative Here Re-affirms Lamont's Assurance Money Will Be Lent Only For Constructive Purposes

Mr. Frederick W. Stevens, representative of the American group of the Chinese Consortium, American Judicial and Consular officials and prominent American merchants were guests at a dinner yesterday given by local Chinese organisations at the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce.

The hosts were the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce, the Shanghai Chinese Bankers' Association, the Native Bankers' Guild and the Chinese Cotton Mill-owners' Association.

President C. C. Nieh of the Chamber of Commerce welcomed the guests in an eloquent speech, while Mr. Shen Chu-hau, president of the Shanghai Chinese Bankers' Association, spoke on behalf of the bankers. Mr. Stevens made an appropriate response in which he reaffirmed the declaration made by Mr. Thomas W. Lamont of the policy of the American group of the Consortium. His speech was interpreted into Chinese by Dr. C. T. Wang, Chinese envoy to the Versailles Conference.

After referring to the noteworthy record made by the principle guest of honor as a lawyer and a financier, Mr. Nieh stated that Mr. Stevens was eminently fitted to fulfill the duties assigned to him by the new Consortium, whose guiding policy was co-operation and not exploitation.

Mr. Stevens was well-acquainted with the conditions in China, an intimate friend to the Chinese people, highly respected and with high Christian ideals, Mr. Nieh stated. In his capacity as the representative of the American group, he could not only do a lot for his own country but also for China.

Mr. Nieh expressed satisfaction that both Mr. Lamont and Mr. Stevens had openly declared that if any loans were to be made, they would be made for constructive purpose not for destruction; for industrial development and internal reconstruction, and not for the culture of another war. Before calling on Mr. Shen, he gave a brief history of the four organizations which were hosts of the dinner.

CALLS MISSION NOBLE
Mr. Shen referred to the declaration made in April by Mr. Lamont on the future Consortium policy and said he was happy that Mr. Stevens had arrived to carry out the policy outlined by Mr. Lamont. Mr. Stevens had a noble mission to carry out, Mr. Shen said, and his wide experience and high ideals would doubtless be beneficial to the Chinese people.

The guest of honor expressed his gratification for the splendid exhibition of goodwill and confidence evidenced at the function and took it as an expression towards his fellow-countrymen rather than to himself. He was glad of the opportunity to come out to China not because of the appointment but because of the consideration that he might perform a real service to a great people. It was because of this consideration, Mr. Stevens said, that he had laid aside all his other business interests in America, which were considerable, and came to this distant country.

CONFIRMS LAMONT STATEMENTS
Mr. Stevens then confirmed the statement made by Mr. Lamont in his last trip to China as to the purpose and intent of the American group of the Consortium and assured his audience that all the

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, December 24.—President Wilson will shortly issue a proclamation authorizing relaxation of the American military regime in Santo Domingo.

A Commission of representative Dominicans will be credited with a technical adviser appointed by President Wilson to revise the laws and constitution.

The proclamation, which will be published in Santo Domingo, states that the United States Government believes the time has arrived when it might "inaugurate simple processes for rapid withdrawal from its responsibilities under the treaty with the Santo Domingo Government."

(Reuter's Service)

New York, Dec. 26.—According to an Associated Press telegram from Trieste, the Italian regular forces have reached the edge of Fiume, and are closing in on d'Annunzio. It is expected that his capture will soon be effected. On Friday night five regulars were killed and 30 wounded.

New York, December 25.—An Associated Press despatch from London states that d'Annunzio is reported to have proclaimed a state of war between Italy and the Government of Fiume.

Rome, December 24.—Commenting on the situation at Fiume, the Popular Catholic organ, Corriere d'Italia, writes: "In spite of d'Annunzio's obstinacy, the Italian Government will not hesitate to take all the measures necessary to assure the fulfillment of the treaty of Rapallo and vindicate Italy's honor."

"The Popular party approves the Government's energetic action aiming to compel d'Annunzio's legions to submit to Italy's will. It is impossible any longer to listen to temporising proposals or to negotiate with a commander who will not obey when the Italian Government applies coercion."

NO FURTHER PARLEY
"Discussions are no longer possible with any Italian official who does not obey his King. Indulgence would only produce new complications and difficulties of all kinds. D'Annunzio is openly inciting bluejackets of the Italian Navy to desertion."

"It is necessary to have done with this dangerous, capricious man and for the sake of Italy's dignity to put a stop resolutely and firmly to d'Annunzio's adventures. We approve Signor Giolitti's attitude."

Financial Isolation Of U.S. And Britain Deplored By French

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, December 22.—M. Loucheur, the former Cabinet Minister, in a speech before the Chamber of Deputies, stated that the present economic world crisis is largely ascribable to the unsettled condition of the exchanges.

He expressed the opinion that Great Britain and the United States would be well advised in giving up their present policy of financial isolation and granting loans to those nations which are temporarily embarrassed.

He said that all nations were now bound together economically and added that world peace would be completely restored only after the disarmament of Germany.

TSAO KUN WILL CONTROL RAILWAY

People Restless At News Of New Military Plan Is Circulated

(China Press Correspondence)
Peking, Dec. 25.—General Tiao Kun, Inspector-General of Chihli, Shantung and Shanxi, has completed arrangements with the Military Governor of Shantung for the quartering of certain units of Chihli troops along the Tientsin-Peking Railway in Shantung. These units, which have not as yet been designated, will take up quarters to the South of Tientsin with their main bases at Tientsin and Chufou. Their position along the railway is one of considerable military importance, as it gives Tiao Kun full control of the line south of Tientsin.

The people of Shantung are opposed to seeing troops from another province stationed in their territory and are manifesting considerable restlessness which, it is feared in many quarters, may develop into an active movement hostile to the Chihli forces.

export trade, due to the poverty of other nations and their inability to secure credits for the purpose of placing orders with Great Britain. These conditions equally affect all nations. My Ministers will continue their unremitting attention, with a view to mitigating the hardships of unemployment.

WARRIORS NEED POSITIONS

As a direct consequence of the depression, the speech adds, His Majesty's hope that ex-service men, especially disabled men, would have been absorbed in civil employment has been disappointed. The Government have not spared efforts to secure resettlement of the men, but it has become more than ever necessary that the Government's efforts be supplemented by the active aid and co-operation of the people.

London, Dec. 24.—The House of Commons achieved the record of the session by sitting from 3 p.m. on the 22nd to midnight last night, with only a break of one hour at midday yesterday.

The Opposition strenuously opposed the Government's rushing 17 pages of Lord's amendments to the Agricultural bill and challenged divisions, declaring that the Government were subservient to the landed interests of the Lord's. The bill oscillated between the Lords and the Commons until nearly midnight when compromises were reached resulting in agreement.

Scores Beheaded On Upper Yangtze

Reports Brought To Shanghai Of Numerous Executions By River Craft

Following the recent uprising of troops at Ichang executions by wholesale at points on the upper Yangtze are being carried out by the Chinese authorities, according to reports that have been brought to Shanghai in the last several days by river craft. These executions are in accordance with ancient custom, by beheading.

A single incident is related by Capt. T. F. Doyle of the steamer Mai Shun, which arrived from the upper Yangtze on Saturday. Captain Doyle said that while his vessel was coaling at Wanhsien on December 9 he saw 28 men beheaded on the river bank. The victims were led out and were compelled to kneel in a row whereupon the executioner, armed with a heavy sword, made his way down the line severing a head at each step.

The bodies were left where they lay through the whole of a day, said Captain Doyle, and in the evening were thrown into the river. The day before his steamer arrived at Wanhsien, he said, even a larger number was put to death and it was announced that another large group of offenders were to be put to death the following day.

Smiles from the Mixed Court

Various astute, or cynical, persons have made remarks about the importance of appearances as regards the sartorial trappings with which the well-known human race has allowed itself to be more or less incumbered. Certainly, if the police are constituting themselves a board of censorship in the matter, there is something to be said for the argument.

Woo Zien-ong was fully dressed the other evening as he walked down the Nanking Road. To the C. P. C. on point duty, in fact, he seemed overdressed. Or so the C. P. C. later stated to the Magistrate. Moreover, the cut of Woo's long overcoat struck the observer as being not merely ludicrous, but also in a way criminally uneconomical. A man of Woo's build should have had two overcoats and a suit of knickerbockers out of the material involved. Also Woo had the garment buttoned in an eccentric, hither-and-yon style which the C. P. C., while admitting that it lent the wearer a certain air of jaunty and individuality, knew would have given pain to even the most unconventional of the boulevardiers of the Ms. Lee. So he halted Woo and questioned him regarding these matters.

Woo maintained such a positive silence that his questioner, growing short of breath, led him around to the police station and turned him over to other inquisitors. Here Woo was unimpaired of his great-coat and it was then seen that various bulges and angles which had helped to destroy the symmetry of his appearance were occasioned by two fur-lined cloaks, a large cotton curtain and four sliver garments of a feminine nature—all of which were hung in bundles, from Woo's ordinary suit. By a strange coincidence all of these articles, including the overcoat, were observed to be identical with a list of clothing which Li Liu-ss had a few minutes before reported as missing from his home at 702 Chekiang Road.

A further inspection of Woo's wardrobe produced a large number of pawn tickets and the presiding officials in the Mixed Court agreed with the police that the case might well be put over for a week to see what an inventory of the articles pawned may bring forth.

TING CONTRIBUTES
TING Dien-kew passed the buck back to the Municipality when he came to be charged in the Mixed Court a few mornings ago. Ting was charged with operating a bicycle along the Broadway after nightfall with no lights showing. "There are so many holes in the road," quoth the defendant, "that no light could live. Mine got bumped out."

Ting was called on to contribute $2 to the funds of the city and can console himself with the dream that they may go into paving improvements.

Income Tax To Be Used For Education

(Reuter's Pacific Service)
Peking, December 24.—The Ministry of Education announces that it will receive 70 percent of the proposed income tax, of which five-sevenths will be devoted to state education, namely the colleges and schools in the provinces and at Peking which come directly under the Ministry, the remainder going to meet the local educational deficit. Thirty percent of the income tax is to be apportioned to the work of industrial development.

Palestine, Mesopotamia And Syria Lines Drawn

(Reuter's Service)
Paris, December 25.—An agreement has just been signed by M. Georges Leygues for France and Lord Hardinge of Penshurst, British Ambassador at Paris, for Great Britain, fixing the new frontiers between (1) Syria and Palestine and (2) Syria and Mesopotamia.

The new line runs as follows: from Ras el Nakura on the Mediterranean it runs northward, leaving to Palestine the part of the Jordan valley north of Lake Tiberias; it then descends southward, skirting Lake Tiberias from north to south, leaving the eastern shore to the French zone; thence south of the river Jarmuk to Derat which is left in Syrian territory, and southeast to Nasib; from Nasib the frontier crosses the Syrian Desert in a straight line running northeast reaching the Euphrates at Albukamal, thence northeast again to the Tigris at Jorissat, where the line meets the new Turkish frontier running slightly southwest.

Armed Robbers Raid House On Road Here

Five men, three armed with pistols, entered and robbed a house at 10 Taiwan Road Sunday night, securing money, jewelry and clothing to the total value of $500.

The robbers gained admission to the house by knocking at the door and inquiring for the owner. When the servant turned they all rushed in and intimidated the inmates. After ransacking the place they locked the family and servants in a back room, from which one of the former soon escaped through a window, however, and reported the matter to the police.

The quintet are described as all wearing long blue gowns speaking the Shanghai dialect.

Mr. Hsia Chi-feng, Of The Eastern Times, Assumes Correspondencies

Representing six Chinese papers in Shanghai and one commercial firm, Mr. Hsia Chi-feng, editor of the Eastern Times, will sail on the French Mail liner Andre Lebon for Europe, leaving from Hongkong next month. He goes to Hongkong tomorrow on the Sinking.

The papers which Mr. Hsia will represent as special correspondent are, beside his own publication, the Sin Wan Pao, the New Sun Pao, the Republican Daily News, the National Herald, and the newly organized Journal of Commerce. He will also act as travelling agent for the Young Trading Co., which is planning to have offices in New York, London and Paris for the promotion of the use of Chinese national goods.

Mr. Hsia served with the Chinese Labor Battalion as interpreter on the Belgium and French fronts during the war and returned to China last year. He is president of the Chinese Returned Laborers Association, secretary of the International Anti-opium Association, a member of the Industrial Committee of the Y.M.C.A. and of the Roads Committee of the Pan-Pacific Association.

Mr. Hsia expects to cover the next session of the League of Nations for the six Chinese newspapers.

THREE MILLIONS ARE NEEDED FOR SHANTUNG BILLS

Officials Go To Peking For Aid But Are Unable To Obtain Funds

(CHINA PRESS Correspondence)
Peking, December 25.—The finances of Shantung, like those of most other Chinese provinces, have gone from bad to worse during the past year, and the provincial government is at present faced with the task of raising at once almost $5,000,000 with which to meet outstanding and urgent expenses.

This deficit is made up of the following items, that for education being, as usual, almost the smallest, while the requirements for military expenses and arrears of pay head the list:

Military expenses and arrears of pay	$1,200,000
Civil expenses	600,000
Educational expenses	120,000
Industrial expenses	70,000
Miscellaneous expenses	300,000
Total	$2,890,000

The Chairman and the Vice-Chairman of the Shantung Provincial Assembly have both been in Peking recently in order to obtain funds for the payments of the above debts, but Peking is poorer than Shantung, and the two officials returned to their native province empty-handed.

Thus, all other attempts to relieve the situation having failed, the problem has been left to the Military Governor, General Tien Chung-yu, who is now negotiating with the Shantung Salt Commission for a temporary local advance to be authorized by the Peking Government on the security of the Salt Surplus.

This much over-worked security is, however, mortgaged up to the end of 1921; and, furthermore, Peking has urgent need of its own for any advance that can still be raised on the Salt Surplus.

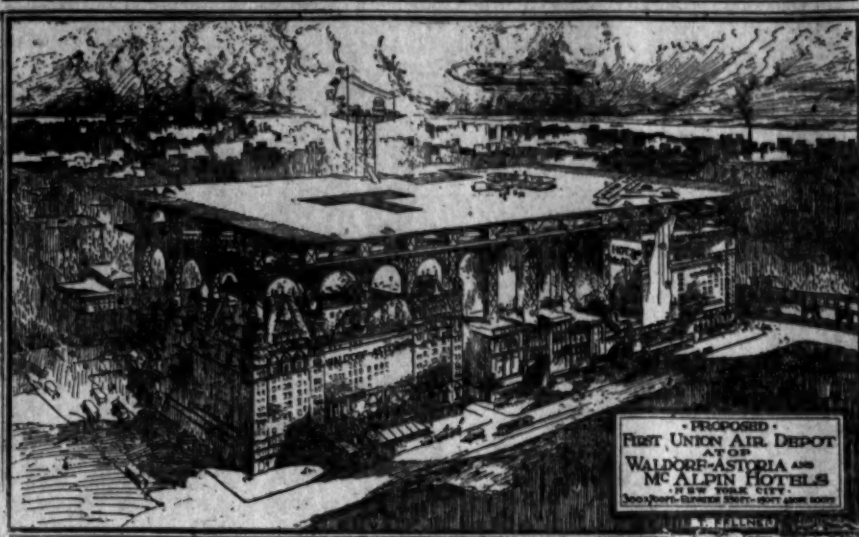

Hence it is feared that Shantung will have either to find some other security for its local loan or struggle along without paying its debts.

Admiral Lin Pao-yi In Amoy Seclusion

(CHINA PRESS Correspondence)
Peking, December 25.—Admiral Lin Pao-yi, who was one of the seven directors of the defunct Canton Military Government, is now living in complete retirement at Kulangsu, Amoy. He neither accepts invitations nor receives guests at his house, and he is said to be in very poor financial circumstances.

A personal messenger from the Admiral arrived in Peking recently to ascertain how his chief stands with the Central Government and to negotiate with the Peking authorities for the renewal of the Admiral's connection with the North provided that official Peking appears favorable to him.

Air Port Depot Proposed In New York City.

This proposed first airplane station in the heart of New York City, designed by F. T. Fellner, of Brooklyn, has been pronounced entirely practical by noted engineers and architects. The plan is the erection of a gigantic roof covering two entire blocks, one hundred and fifty feet above the roofs of the Hotels Waldorf-Astoria and McAlpin. A floor space of three hundred feet by seven hundred feet will be had according to the plans, which will be ample space for the landing of a fleet of planes.

Ministry Of Interior To Control C.E. Rail Police

(Reuter's Pacific Service)
Peking, Dec. 27.—The Official Gazette announces that, with the exception of the railway guards, the police within the Chinese Eastern Railway area are to be directly controlled by the Ministry of the Interior.

The following regulations are to be enforced:

1.—The Chinese Eastern Railway is to be a special police district.

2.—The police headquarters are to be at Harbin.

3.—The Ministry of the Interior is to nominate and the President is to appoint the Police Superintendent.

4.—The Superintendent is to control the Police Administration in accordance with the orders of the Ministry of the Interior.

5.—In the event of questions arising involving the interests of the Chinese Eastern Railway in the Provinces of Kirin and Heilungkiang, the Superintendent shall give due consideration to the views of the President, the Railway and the Tientsin of Kirin and Heilungkiang, as the case may be.

6.—The Ministry of the Interior is to appoint an officer to train the new force.

7.—The respective authorities of the new force of Railway Police and neighboring police forces are to be determined by the new Superintendent in agreement with the heads of the other forces concerned.

Foreign Trade Of France Improving

(Reuter's Service)
Paris, December 22.—Official statistics of French foreign trade for the first eleven months of 1920 show that the situation is constantly improving.

The exports for the period in question exceeded by over four hundred and eighty millions sterling (at par exchange value) last year's figures for the same months, while imports show an increase of some ninety millions only.

Another satisfactory fact is that food imports are decreasing steadily and the export of manufactured articles increasing every day.

Hongkong Steamer Will Be Operated Under U.S. Flag

The steamer Paco Figueras, formerly the well known Cardigan-shire, and one of the largest vessels with a Hongkong registry, has lately been sold, and hereafter will be operated under the American flag and registered in Manila, according to a report from Hongkong.

The ship was owned by the Figueras Steamship Company, of Manila interests, though its head office was in Hongkong in the firm of Thoresen and Company. It was operated under the British flag. It passed through Hongkong in October, on a voyage from Port Said to Vladivostok. From the latter port it went to Japan, and then to Manila.

The new owners also are Manila people. Messrs. Thoresen & Co. will continue to act as agents in Hongkong. Under the new arrangement, the ship will have Spanish officers and Philippine crew. Several of the former officers of the vessel, who left the ship in Manila, have returned to Hongkong.

LIVING COST REDUCED

(Reuter's Service)

London, Dec. 22.—According to the Ministry of Labor's statistics, on December 1 the cost of living was 159 percent above that of July, 1914, as compared with 176 on November 1.

Brussels, Dec. 22.—The cost of living in Belgium figures for October are 477, taking 100 as the pre-war figures.

Chilites United Against Pardon Of Anfu Leaders

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, December 25.—The visit of Mr. Yeh Kung-chow, the Minister of Communications, last Wednesday, to Mukden, whence he has not yet returned, is considered a convincing answer to the recent reports of a split in the Chilli party.

It is authoritatively stated that relations between Mr. Yeh Kung-chow and Governor-General Chang Tso-hsi are unimpaired. That important developments are in progress is generally known, but certain elements of future policy are still quite undecided.

There seems to be no doubt that the Tientsin and Chekiang are endeavoring to persuade the Government to restore Tuan Chih-jui to power, and to pardon the other Anfuites, promising in return to support the Central Government, instead of joining the Southern Confederation.

According to another Chinese report, the Japanese Minister of War has promised to support Chang Tso-hsi's greater Manchurian policy if the latter will abstain from opposing a pardon for the Anfuites. The Chinese say that this is the reason for Yen Kung-chow's visit to Mukden.

While these points do not go far toward elucidating the situation, it is now taken for granted in Peking that the Chillis are still united; and that the question now under consideration is whether an Anfu combination would not be worse than a united South.

HEARTS OF OAK

Oak has long been known as a wood of sterling qualities. The stoutest vessels which ever put to sea were made from English Oak; some of them are still to be seen lying at moorings, where they have lain for a century or more, unwanted, as out of date and dilapidated. The timber in them, however, is as good as the day when it was hewn from its forest home.

It is, then, a wood which will stand all the wear and rough knocks which either you, your children or your grand-children will be able to give to it, and then be a pleasure to look upon.

CHILDREN MADE PROPAGANDISTS TO SAVE FRANCE

Movement For Rehabilitation Launched By Poincare And Colleagues

THREE PLANS OF ACTION

Taxes, Subsidies, Gifts And Reimbursable Loans Included In Schemes

(Reuter's French Wireles)

Paris, December 26.—Following the demonstration which was held at the Trocadero under the auspices of the Union des Grandes Associations Françaises, of which M. Raymond Poincare is president, the Minister publishes details of a scheme which has given rise to a powerful movement in France for the relief of the devastated areas.

Throughout the period of the school vacation, the Union arranged that the school-children should visit the devastated areas around Arras. Over 15,000 children paid such visits and made such whole-hearted and zealous propaganda that within a few months the 2,166 devastated communes for whom sponsors were yet to be found were assured of "adoption." In this manner, the Department of the Seine alone has "adopted" 271 communes.

There are three methods of "adoption": for example, the city of Lyons includes in its yearly budget an additional levy of ten centimes for the reconstruction of Laon and St. Quentin. The income from these centimes is devoted to cash subsidies or to gifts in kind. Aside from this levy, an appeal is made for individual subscriptions.

Neuilly-sur-Seine has proceeded otherwise, organizing by public subscription a fund in aid of the villages on Lonsport and Courcy. The third method consists in uniting the efforts of organizations which arrange for shipments of commodities, construct public buildings or agree to make advances for the immediate execution of those works of reconstruction which are incumbent on the State, by which they will later be reimbursed.

FIRE DESTROYS TIMBER YARDS

Christmas Eve Blaze Threatens B. C. C. Godowns And Chinese Village

A part of the Fire Brigade observed the advent of Christmas by journeying over to Pootung and staying up most of the night to help out off the spread of a fire which destroyed the stocks of Yue Chang-tai's contracting yards and seriously threatened the British Cigarette Company's new godowns and a Chinese village.

The blaze, which started shortly before 11 p.m. Friday, cast a glare against the sky visible all over the Settlements, bringing throngs of Chinese to the Bund. When the outbreak was sighted Central station made inquiries and the fire boat went over to stand by. After a time however it was reported that the fire had subsided somewhat and that the danger was past and the members of Central Division returned. Then Central bell tower reported a revival of the flames and the Chief Officer and a party of men went across the river and found the godown and the Chinese houses in considerable danger.

STAFF FIGHTS FLAMES

The B. C. C. staff, under Mr. Skidmore, were working strenuously at the removal of timbers from the vicinity of the godown and the Pootung Brigade and villagers were working with a small motor pump and by tearing down houses to check the advance toward the main village. The firefighters from the Settlement joined in the work and a long line of hose was run up from the float to aid in damping down around the burning area. The danger to the B.C.C. buildings was practically eliminated by 3 a.m. but the Brigade men continued to assist in removing timbers, pulling down dwellings where necessary and in damping down.

It was 5:30 o'clock before the Chief Officer and the majority of his party returned across the river. The contractor's yard was practically gutted of timber and it was a remarkable fact and a testimonial to the ability and energy of the firefighters that the fire did not get to the godowns nor the main village.

FIRE IN SETTLEMENT

The members from Central Division had scarcely returned when there was a call to an outbreak at 1, 1578-80 Avenue Edward VII. Sina Department, responding, found the shop doomed but after a sharp tussle succeeded in saving the adjoining buildings. The shop where the fire originated, a chow shop, was destroyed and one of the adjoining shops was damaged upstairs. The ignition of some shavings which were being dried was reported as the cause of the blaze.

Hungtung Feels Earthquake Shock

(China Press Correspondence)

Hungtung, Shanal, December 17.—There was considerable excitement in this city and neighborhood last night because of an earthquake which occurred at 8 p.m. For fully three minutes the glass windows rattled as in a fast-moving train when the breaks are put on suddenly, and the sensation one experienced in walking was exactly similar to that of walking on board ship in a tossing sea.

The birds were driven from their roosts and flew about in an excited manner, the dogs barked vigorously, and the people staggered in hot haste to the streets, yelling excitedly as they went.

Some would be here rushed to the temple and beat the big temple gong vigorously in a noble endeavor to save the situation. In a neighboring Government Boys' School the scholars became panic-stricken and set up a tremendous wall, evidently thinking that the end of the world had come!

The three minutes or more of violent quaking were followed by another three minutes of less strong, but no less sustained, movement, and at 8:15, 8:35, 8:41, 8:45, 9:15, and 10:17 p.m. there were additional light shocks of brief duration.

We learn this morning that a large number of walls and a few houses and sheds have been destroyed, but so far we have only heard of one person and some animals being crushed.

YE SCRIBE AND MR. J. LIOW HEROES OF HOLIDAY 'UNTS; GOOD PACKS TAKE THE TRAIL

Much Good Sport And Some Grief Attend Christmas And Boxing Day Paperchases; Ben Beith Smashes A Collarbone

By Johnny Walker

Returned out of the Xmas 'Unt an appeal to motorists to give a hand to a little with their own walking home after the run. ... about this: Towards the end of the evening watch, came to the Race Club, one, Dalgarno, in the last stages of decomposition. When drink had been administered unto him he spoke and said: "I fell off my pony and struck the earth with my belly and my nose. My pony ran away and I've had to walk all the way home. At least six motor cars passed me, and not one offered me a lift, though it was plain to all that my nose was bleeding and my belly full of pain."

And the Pack comforted Dalgarno saying: "Never mind Dal, you probably looked such a miserable object, they were scared of you."

Ben, o' the tribe of Beith, had the ill-fate to break his collarbone again on Xmas Day and will be laid up for the greater part of some time. Poor Ben! He had arranged to lay Monday's run but this privilege was delegated to Benbow Rowe and The Scribe. The latter however is not very well, Xmas 'Unt didn't improve matters, so Benbow had a bevy of fair riders all to himself, lucky dog.

WEATHER NOTWITHSTANDING

The day was one of those dull raw days, with threats of rain, and a wind that went through you like a search warrant. Despite this, quite a fair field assembled on Hungjiao Road extension, just west of the golf course, and as the Scribe hobbled out to a point of vantage to see the first jumps, bursts of song kept beating on his ear drums, showing that the hounds were undismayed, although the rain was now lashing around. They never care a damn anyway so long as they get a good run. Benbow has a fearsome reputation for laying Siccawel Creek—this time they had to negotiate it twice at high tide—and as one young man said, "When we weren't swimming we were stuck in mud holes, and we no sooner got running hot than we struck checks."

New and undeveloped country however is always criticised; critics should not forget that it takes years to perfect a country, and from what he knows of it, The Scribe is quite sure Benbow gave them of the best in the particular localities where he lay out. When the new map of the French Country is ready—if ever—hounds will be able to trace out every run just as they can with Home and Rubicon.

THE NATIVE HOST

The Finish was at Forth where a very large crowd of spectators occupied all vantage grounds, one squad being well entertained by a Chinese conjuror who produced rabbits and frogs from thin air. The demeanor of the landed gentry at a finish is always amusing, sometimes dangerous, for when the field hove in sight running fast and strong, the L. G. started sniggering like hens across a road, breaking across the finish jump in ones, twos, and threes, quite good-natured about it and impossible to keep in order.

The 'Unt was described on the sky line, along the Siccawel Creek, and as they got nearer, the line of the creeks being trickier made them appear to be travelling aimlessly like a swarm of ants.

MR. LIOW TRIUMPHS

Suddenly the leaders appeared round a grave at a very oblique angle to Forth and B34 to swing sharply round bumping as they did so, which could not be avoided as they ran neck and neck. Mr. Liow had the inside advantage however and beat Isaac Ezra by a head. After that came The Trinitaire, blood in his eye, and then Henry Lester who got the heavyweight, and more luck to Ben Henry and more credit for getting it so soon.

The balance of the pack came along in patches, but not near so many finished as started, several being reported derelict in Siccawel Creek.

The ponies with few exceptions went over the last jump gamely. Reggie Wingrove came along like a burst of exchange, strong with a downward tendency, Reggie being knocked out for a moment, much to the alarm of several nice looking ladies. Lucky Reggie!

And so the Third 'Unt now belongs to past history. The Scribe sits patiently in the Race Club waiting the advent of Henry, the New Pink, first of this season, and he hopes the Choir turns up to celebrate such an auspicious occasion in befitting style. After which, it means a few days' bed for The Scribe, but the Xmas 'Unt was quite worth it—and business is rotten anyway.

THE CARD READ:

Third 'Unt, Monday, Dec. 27, 1920:

Start—Hungjiao Road extension.

Finish—Forth.

'Unt laid by—Mr. E. S. Benbow Rowe.

1—Mr. J. Liow on Social Union

2—Isaac Ezra on Iron Duke.

3—N. J. Sparke on Four Dollars.

4—H. W. Lester on My Mistake.

5—J. J. Paterson on Night Hawk.

6—A. Hitch on Ace of Diamonds.

It is rumored that Mr. Liow and A. W. B. are arranging a Kiangwan atrocity for New Year's Day. Let's hope the going will be better than the last Kiangwan horror for it is no place to 'unt when the ground is soft as porridge. So let's hope weather conditions remain favorable.

YE SCRIBE IS AWARED

It was a tired Scribe that banged his desk on Friday night thankful to get away from the moiling and toiling of the daily grind, the cry of the Chinese dealer, "More better you help me," the ting ting of the phone followed by a strident "Noo sanny kai," the continued pressure for margins and interest which our good bankers hunt with the same zest and zeal that a good sportsman 'unts scents. Life indeed at present is just one struggle for margins.

Margins, Margins, Margins, All the Banks want margins; Honky Shanks, Chartered too. They're never off the phone howling, howling, howling at the harassed merchant. If you didn't pay up To hell you will get blown.

And the whole town is going there right enough, but before we get our tickets punched we are going to have a long week-end with two 'Unts, and after that happen what may, let us eat, drink and be merry through tomorrow we must die.

And that's what the 'Scribe thought as he wiped the dust of the office off his feet—a long week-end and 'Unts. Life has some compensations after all.

The Scribe recently shipped two ponies to Chefoo and received a nice letter of appreciation, followed on Xmas Eve by a bough of mistletoe, which touched him greatly until he recollected that Mrs. Scribe and the kids are all in the old country and there's nobody home to catch and kiss under the mistletoe except himself. But it is hanging up all the same and thank you very much indeed Mr. and Mrs. Chefoo.

AS TO GOLFERS

Xmas Eve came in with bright sunshine and cold winds. Lots of riders mostly on griffins took advantage of the tiffin interval to get a ride on the course and lots of golfers were out too. Some can drive a straight ball, some can't. The latter are a danger, for they generally slice a ball on to the mud course. Then comes a dirty little caddy searching for the lost ball and the sight of a caddy means trouble to a griffin. But on Xmas Eve tiffin time, not only the caddy there but the other caddies, and the golfer himself! A lost ball is not worth a lost life or a broken limb, besides which, it is damned bad form for a golfer to send his hirelings on a course where golfers are taking place, and worse form still for the golfer himself to intrude. It would be sportier of him to write that ball off and drop a new one. After which grouse let's get on with what the Editor calls the paper 'unt story.

There was an expectant electrical sort of feeling in the air at the Race Club on Xmas Eve. Everybody felt something was going to happen. But at seven o'clock the place was as quiet as a church after service, and the Scribe, who had been waiting to record impressions, decided the choir was after all a wash out, till he saw that the world famed conductor Signor Sparkero carried his famous baton. So the Scribe waited, and in that waiting was undone—but that's nothing to do with this story.

AS TO GOLFERS

Xmas Eve came in with bright sunshine and cold winds. Lots of riders mostly on griffins took advantage of the tiffin interval to get a ride on the course and lots of golfers were out too. Some can drive a straight ball, some can't. The latter are a danger, for they generally slice a ball on to the mud course. Then comes a dirty little caddy searching for the lost ball and the sight of a caddy means trouble to a griffin. But on Xmas Eve tiffin time, not only the caddy there but the other caddies, and the golfer himself! A lost ball is not worth a lost life or a broken limb, besides which, it is damned bad form for a golfer to send his hirelings on a course where golfers are taking place, and worse form still for the golfer himself to intrude. It would be sportier of him to write that ball off and drop a new one. After which grouse let's get on with what the Editor calls the paper 'unt story.

There was an expectant electrical sort of feeling in the air at the Race Club on Xmas Eve. Everybody felt something was going to happen. But at seven o'clock the place was as quiet as a church after service, and the Scribe, who had been waiting to record impressions, decided the choir was after all a wash out, till he saw that the world famed conductor Signor Sparkero carried his famous baton. So the Scribe waited, and in that waiting was undone—but that's nothing to do with this story.

AMERICAN FOOTBALL GAME SHOULD BE PLAYED SUNDAY; SATURDAY PROGRAM CROWDED

Counter Attractions Already Arranged For New Year's Day Afternoon Will Keep Attendance Down; Cy Wilhoit Named Captain Of Civilians

A movement started to stage the American football game next Sunday afternoon instead of on New Year's Day deserves the support of the players and those interested in the match. The candidates for the civilian eleven will probably make the decision at noon today when a practice session will be held on the Bund Foreshore opposite the Yangtze Insurance Company Buildings. Possible inability to secure proper playing space is responsible for the suggestion and too many counter attractions gives it impetus since the game is now to be played for the benefit of the Women's Famine Relief Society.

Saturday afternoon is New Year's Day, the date for which the game is now scheduled. On the same day there are six soccer football games scheduled for the Race Course and it is not a question of being shut out—these games have been arranged for months and the grounds allotted accordingly.

With six soccer matches on many nationals other than Americans are denied opportunity to see American football if the game is played. And it will probably be necessary to stage the clash between the civilians and the U.S.S. New Orleans eleven at the Hongkew Park.

Another suggestion. If the game is played Sunday, tags could be sold at the six soccer matches and possibly $500 more secured for the W. F. R. S.

Thus there are these three—little likelihood of securing a proper playing field, six counter attractions in the same arena, and holding down of the receipts. Not to mention the fact that New Year's Day is the one that follows New Year's Eve.

CY IS NOW 'EL CAPITAN'

All the foregoing is editorial. Now for the news. Cy Wilhoit has been elected captain of the civilian eleven to succeed Charley Glaucow. Charley is taking a much-needed rest at Nanking and in a neat and cordial letter, thanks the boys for the honor conferred upon him and expresses regrets that his physician had his heart out of town for a week. Cy's appointment as the team leader was followed by the election of J. J. Knowlan as manager of the team.

Both Cy and Knowlan are enthusiastic over the possibilities but deary the failure of many stars to show. Paul Chatom was shooting in Hangchow over the holidays but is expected out for the noon practice on The Bund today and an attempt will be made to get Pete Dorrance down from Spoochow for the game against the sailors.

PETE WILL DO

The only qualification that Pete possesses is that he was an All-Western tackle and when in his prime at the University of Michigan, was mentioned with plenty of enthusiasm by one Mr. W. Camp, who picks All-Americans, eleven and writes books on football and is a graduate of Yale and everything.

With Dorrance and Chatom playing tackle, Marsden and Stovall or Hewitt at guard; Anderson in at center, Hutchinson and Neal or Hopkins on the wings, and a backfield picked from Wilhoit, Rodger, Maloney, Gold, Earle and a dozen other likely performers, the civilians should be in a pretty fair fix to tackle the New Orleans eleven.

DR. ULEN IS COACHING

The sailors are working hard, have uniforms and are even going so far as to have their pictures taken. The last named operation will be performed this afternoon.

Dr. Francis Ulen, Navy dentist and former Vanderbilt quarterback, is helping to get the Navy into shape. Dr. Ulen has been working hard with the men and promises a fast and powerful team for the game against the landmen.

Another word for the civilians—practice at noon today on The Bund Foreshore.

Ye Scribe And Mr. J. Liou
Heroes Of Holiday 'Unts

As that of Xmas morning. That's a fact. Towards seven thirty the young fellows dropped in, in twos and threes, and sharp at seven thirty Mr. Maestro Sparkino asked David to produce the dops, said dops being carols in booklet form. Just one criticism on the bookies, why did Reggie not take up the book for Most and Chandon—and where was the legend "Inure Your Poles?" The Maestro's mascot was Charley Barf, the human tuning fork, whose hat also served as the big drum during the subsequent proceedings. One way of the baton produced attention, the next wave produced a wave of melody that lifted the roof, and the young men gave tongue right heartily and a right merry evening with nothing wrong in it, ensued. The 'Unt Club has reason to be grateful to Maestro Sparkino, for without him we should indeed live in a dull world.

And so we come to Xmas morning, beautifully sunny, sharp, and cold. Breakfast, followed by morning service at the Kirk, where the singing of the Choir had nothing on Stignor Sparkino's sack. Then, tiffin when the Scribe and party were serenaded by a Russian orchestra, which played "The Long Long Trail" like a funeral march, and which cost the Scribe five Mex.

A PRE-WAR CROWD
So to the start at Old Handicap Bridge, Brennan Road, an enormous crowd, probably a hundred and twenty riders, quite an old fashioned pre-war crowd, full of gin and ginger, singing, joking and playing the ox and the ass generally. But good hounds, out for blood. Xmas tiffin lay heavy on the Scribe's anatomy and he decided to ride easy, at the back, and just watch things generally. Man proposes, God disposes. He rode quite differently as things happened, but he couldn't help himself.

The 'Unt lined up to give Mr. Ah Fong a chance of taking a panoramic photo; and as hounds immediately thereafter started pushing and thrusting, the Scribe, in charge, decided to wash his hands of them at once and wishing them "A Merry Xmas and Good 'Uniting," he let them go. The ground was good dry going, with lots of dust, and hounds, except the first fighters, made an awful botch of the first line of jumps, Highland Grigs, where they strewed the earth like Autumn leaves. The Scribe can record no names of performers, for the way was dusty and the first part of the run was into the eye of the sun, and he was too busy looking after his own skin.

Here and There was platformed, and then came a wide at high tide across Artery Creek, where two thrusters disappeared from sight. Next came Wagon Line and Pond Astorium the latter of which maintained its reputation. Through Panama, to Slough of Despond, and then a check, quickly picked up through the wade by Dallas's Grave, right front to Hongjiao Road, then left into Hungjiao country, wading Rubicon Creek at Miss Johnstone's Line.

There were here any amount of riderless ponies which were a menace and nuisance to the field. And here the Scribe saw something that made him cheer, and not feel so beastly old after all, for was not Mr. Stitt there riding with the best and clearing a big double grip on Miss Johnstone's that brought to grief two fellows ahead of him!

DALGARNO IS HUMBLED
Thence round a lagoon west of Miss Feline and cheek. But only for a moment for a cast quickly picked up scent towards Bridge leading on to Hungjiao Road and green paper, when many well come for the pace had been hot and strong. And so to the Yellow Joas House and then check over two platforms leading to Yellow Joas Line.

The leaders here thrust on and on, and the savvy ones behind saw them throw up their heads, then it was back again and off down a line that ended in a twisty turn in a village, an awkward mudhole, and then wade Rubicon Creek again. Here the leaders were Vaughan Craddock, Bertie Burkill and the Scribe. At Clear Water they were passed by a crowd of maniacs riding as though the finish was not still two miles away, and Dalgarno, who had had a too much tiffin, left earth with a squeal, just over Midding Tree Platform. This fight pulled too much left and got crooked, but the old hounds, A. W. B. and the Scribe were too savvy, though it

Red Cross At Hankow Appeals To Peking For Aid In Famine Relief

(CHINA PRESS Correspondence)

Hankow, Dec. 23.—In view of the urgent need for relief funds to continue the relief work now being carried on under the auspices of various relief agencies in North China, the Hankow Chapter of the American Red Cross at a meeting held last week at the American Consulate-General at Hankow, decided to make a direct appeal to the Peking government for immediate action to devise further plans to continue relief work in the famine affected provinces.

Accordingly the following telegram was despatched: "Hankow Chapter American Red Cross working co-operation with Honan Famine Relief Committee desires call attention of the government to need for relief in Honan. Two million five hundred thousand people now in dire distress there. Twelve and a half million dollars necessary to carry these people through winter. Impossible raise this amount by private charity. This organization desires, therefore, respectfully urge the government take steps quickly secure amount needed. Government only agency that can deal adequately with situation. We earnestly entreat the government to accept this responsibility. Hunter Mann, Chairman."

SEND COPIES OF MESSAGE

A copy of the above telegram was sent to each of the following: Hon. Shi-chang, President of China; Premier Chin Yun-peng; Dr. W. W. Yen, Minister of Foreign Affairs; Mr. Chang Chih-tan, Minister of the Interior; Mr. Yeh Kun-chih, Minister of Communications, and Mr. Chow Tzu-chi, Minister of Finance.

In response to this call for action from Hankow, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, Dr. W. W. Yen, gave the following reply: "Chairman of the American Red Cross Society Hankow. Your telegram transmitted last night received and transmitted to Minister of Interior, Director-General of Famine Relief, Minister devising measures for dealing with situation including raising loans and contributions. View of magnitude of disaster much depends upon private support and sympathy. Very grateful for work done by your Society. W. W. Yen."

FUND BEING RAISED

The fund thus far raised by the International Famine Relief Committee of Hankow, according to the subscription list, already exceeds the $10,000 mark. Including all the sums acknowledged by the Hankow International Committee, both from Hankow and outports the total amount is $10,257.

Rev. S. H. Little, of the St. Paul's Cathedral of the American Church Mission, Hankow, has just returned from the famine districts in the North where he helped in relief work.

Rev. Paul Maclin, also of the American Church Mission, Hankow, has been back from the northern provinces where he worked for several weeks in relief work. He gave to the Hankow public the astonishing famine conditions as they exist today. Mr. Edward Walker of Boone University, Wuchang, recently left Hankow for Honan to serve his period of volunteer service in the famine district.

The Wuchang Y. M. C. A., too, has sent one of its Chinese secretaries, Mr. Liu Ho-fing, to Honan to work in conjunction with the Honan Committee to have the funds raised from Christian sources in Hankow properly administered to the famine sufferers.

SOOCHOW COMMITTEE

(China Press Correspondence)

Soochow, December 26.—A Committee, which will work as an auxiliary of the Shanghai North China Famine Relief Committee, has been organized in Soochow, with the following directors: Mr. Telang, President of the Self-Government Society; Mr. Bang, Chairman of the Chamber of Commerce; Mr. Pan, Commissioner of Education; Mr. Chang, President of the Educational Association; Father Bonay, of the Catholic Mission, and Pastor Tsa of the Northern Presbyterian Mission, representing the Protestant Missions of the city. W. H. Park, M.D., and W. W. Brockman, of the Y.M.C.A., are acting as foreign advisers to the committee.

At the first meeting of the committee pledges were made to the amount of $25,000 to be paid at once, with organized collecting to continue so long as needed. Of this amount the Chamber of Commerce pledged $12,000 and the Protestant Missions $8,000. A considerable amount has already been contributed by Soochow people, as individuals and in small groups, but it is hoped by this organization to reach every person in the city who is able to make a contribution, no matter how small.

NEW PLAN AT MISSION

At the Methodist Mission in East Soochow, the Christmas celebration took a new form this year. Formerly each institution has had its own celebration, generally taking the form of concert, Christmas trees, feasts, exchanging of gifts, etc. This year all have joined together, including the St. John's Church, the Laura Haygood Girls' School—in all departments from Kindergarten to Normal—the Soochow University, from the Boys Primary School up, and the Soochow Hospital, in holding a joint celebration at the St. John's Church. There was a musical program in which representatives of each institution had a part, followed by a short spirited address by the Rev. Z. T. Kaung, Presiding Elder of the Soochow District.

Then individuals and institutions were given an opportunity to make Christmas offerings for the Famine Relief. This resulted

Former Model Succeeds In First Attempt As Artist

Both surprise and disappointment have been freely distributed by the jury of the Paris Salon this year, but one young woman, Mila Barry, was very much surprised. Mila Barry, who as an artist's model has had the opportunity of watching many noted artists at work suddenly deserted her platform and set up an easel of her own. Since taking up her new vocation she has painted seven pictures and much to her surprise five of them have been accepted by the Salon d'Automne. She became famous overnight.

In cash and pledges amounting to five hundred and fifty dollars and twenty-six cents, fifty pairs of straw shoes, one bag of flour, one bag of rice.

Money continues to come in from different sources. There was also a liberal contribution of clothing, etc., to be distributed among the poor of the church.

Lack Of Boycott Seen As Cause Of Downfall Of Korean Government

(China Press Correspondence)

Hankow, December 22, 1920.

The auditorium of the Hupui Union of All Circles in Hankow was filled to overflowing last evening by about one thousand people attending a special meeting of the Union to hear the address by a Korean, Chow Pe-chow, on the present situation and past efforts at independence made by Koreans against their rulers, the Japanese.

Many of the recent atrocities committed by Japanese against Korean agitators of the independence movement were unearthing by the Korean speaker before his Chinese listeners. Besides, the ways and means adopted by the Japanese government to suppress the Koreans and harness their progress were also briefly accounted by Mr. Chow, who said that with the present existing system of government in Korea under Japanese every possible hope of bettering their own conditions seemed to have dwindled away.

REPORTS ABUSES

Beginning his address in a very low tone, the speaker said: "What I want to present before you this evening regarding the present conditions in Korea are many and varied. I cannot take them all this time, but shall only endeavor to report the actual conditions as they exist today in a general and brief way."

"The Chinese and the Koreans are closely akin to each other, and their relations are traditional and intimate. They have similar language, similar customs and were once sister-states in the Far East. But unfortunately eleven years ago Korea was conquered by the Japanese."

"The cause of destruction of Korea, as some are apt to put, is the selfishness and maladministration of the Korean government. But that is not the cause at the bottom. The chief cause that led to the final collapse is that the Koreans failed to resort to the economical weapon—boycott."

PEOPLE ARE BLAMED

"It is really not the handful of officials then governing Korea who sold away their country to the Japanese. Of course they were responsible for part of the blame. Still that is not the predominating reason. The blame should be attributed to the Korean people at large."

"The Koreans of those days used to buy Japanese goods whenever they bought anything at all. They seemed to think that the Japanese goods were the only goods for them to buy. Therefore Japanese influence grew with irresistible force, and finally subdued Korea."

Touching upon the present situation in Korea, Mr. Chow gave the following sad revelation:

"Since our country was conquered, all Korean newspapers have been closed by the Japanese, who fear that Korean native press might enlighten the Koreans and disseminate general knowledge to the conquered."

"Secondly, all schools have been closed down, so the word education has been erased from Korean affairs."

"Thirdly, no meeting is allowed to be held by Koreans."

"Fourthly, they are not allowed to print any literature."

"Fifthly, no Koreans are admitted to the ranks."

HISTORY BURNED

"Sixthly, Korean historical publications were all burned which means Korean civilization no longer exists in the world."

"Seventhly, the Japanese occupy Korean estate, houses and any property without the least pretext."

"The above are the underlying general principles by which the Japanese are trying to keep the Koreans in subjection."

"There are various other objectionable measures taken by the Japanese against Korean residents. For instance, every and any rich Korean family is placed under the control of a Japanese, who is styled 'adviser.' This adviser can supervise and control everything in the family, and has the power of auditing the family accounts. The money must be deposited in Japanese banks, and what is most absurd, on the death of the father, his money deposited in Japanese banks goes not to his legal successor, but to the Japanese government."

"Our people after these trying experiences at the hands of their

Holland Faces Heavy Losses On Government Food Deals

The Hague, Nov. 9.—The Dutch Government is facing a serious loss as a result of the purchase of 4 stock of 20,000 tons of potato flour and large quantities of American and other foreign wheat during the last Summer to insure an adequate supply of breadstuffs for the people and to insure the millers against loss by a fall in the market.

The price of imported wheat flour has fallen far below the cost of the Government stocks, and the millers are unwilling to use the Government stock, insisting on their right to buy cheaper and better wheat and flour on the open market. The Government, however, insists that the millers must use a minimum of 25 percent of the Government stock with 45 percent of other grain to enable the Government to reduce its loss.

Dutch newspapers insist that the mixed flour of the Government produces bread too poor in quality to be accepted by the consumers. The Government is seeking to reduce its loss by spreading distribution of the stocks over a considerable time, otherwise it will be compelled to ask a special credit from the States General Parliament to cover the loss, which is estimated at 15,000,000 guilders on the potato flour and probably as much more on the wheat flour.

Japanese rulers, have been awakened to the need of a nation by themselves. Nearly all Koreans who are at all intelligent are fully aware of the situation and the immediate necessity of doing something to better their conditions. This has led to the present independence movement now under way.

TRIALS OF RISING

"Last year there was a great demonstration in Korea aiming at independence. This is the latest instance of the Koreans voicing their desire in spite of Japanese oppression. But the sufferings of leaders in the independence movement are appalling. In Seoul, there was one time a demonstration by Korean girls, who shouted in the streets with their national flags in hands. The Japanese policemen arrested all these agitators. In many cases, the girls refused to be arrested. But the Japanese cut both of their hands off and threw their national colors on the ground. So many innocent Korean girls and young men died in this movement for the cause of their country."

"At present we have succeeded in establishing a provisional government in Shanghai. In doing this we have faced serious obstacles and at times outrages from the Japanese. We are hoping that some brighter days will dawn in Korean history in no distant time."

Shantung Students Revive Movement

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Dec. 25.—The Student Movement in Shantung, to all intents and purposes dead for the past few months, is showing signs of a re-awakening.

Student lecture groups have begun to reappear in the streets of Tsinanfu and other cities of the province, and the students are taking a strong stand on the Hungchun question and other matters at present outstanding between China and Japan.

According to foreign and Chinese observers in Shantung the present movement is fundamentally as strong as that begun in May, 1919, but there is this difference: in 1919 the students went to extremes and frequently risked much to gain what were after all but trifling objects.

Now, however, they appear to have learned caution and while taking firm and, at times, even bold measures to achieve their ends, they are careful to keep within the limits imposed upon them by martial law and to do nothing to offend the authorities.

"LIGNOID" An Ideal Flooring Material

Lignoid is a new composition, whose discovery has opened a new era in the methods of flooring and materials for structural purposes, regarding which architects and engineers have hitherto made so much study and effort. It contains in itself all the merits of such flooring materials as wood, tiles, asphalt, concrete, marble, linoleum, mosaic or terrazzo, and is far superior to them as regards its suitability, which is really ideal, for flooring purposes. The following are its special features:

- (1) Character: The principal ingredient of Lignoid being an inorganic substance and containing certain chemical admixtures, it is non-corrosive and insoluble.
- (2) It is incombustible and insulating and remarkably waterproof.
- (3) It makes up, when installed, a solid floor with a fine appearance and being quite free from any tendency to corrosion and abrasion, its durability is permanent.
- (4) It will withstand heat and cold, and it is remarkably free from the tendency to crack.
- (5) It is dust-proof.
- (6) Being light and elastic it makes walking pleasant, and gives no sound.
- (7) As it adheres firmly to wood, concrete, stone and iron, it never bulges as is the case with linoleum.
- (8) No matter how great the space may be on which it is to be used, it can be installed without using any joints.
- (9) Its installation is easily carried out by a plasterer.
- (10) Cleaning and repairing can be done easily.
- (11) Its price is moderate.

No matter how spacious the office, saloon, dining-room, corridor, verandah, etc., it can be put down without any joints. For wainscoting entrance, corridors, bathrooms, laboratories, etc., it is admirable.

Feeding the Workers

By Mrs. Christine Frederick,
The Distinguished Authority on Household Efficiency.

WE are all busy working people of one sort or another, and to just which sort will depend the amount and kind of food we should eat. Broadly, all adults from the ages of twenty-five to fifty can be divided into two groups: brain workers and muscle workers. While naturally both groups overlap, still we can say that teachers, ministers, bookkeepers, draughtsmen, etc., belong to the first group; while postmen, housekeepers, carpenters, motor-men, lumbermen, grocers, etc., belong to the latter.

Let us look a moment at the adult from twenty-five to fifty years old. Both men and women of this period are fully grown; their frame has reached its full height; it is also filled out to its typical, normal maturity and their normal functioning as adults is established. In other words, they, unlike the child or the adolescent, have "stopped growing." This means that every bit of their food supply goes to energize outside the body. That is why this is the one period which will permit the greatest human effort, labor and productivity of all kinds. It is the time of the "full flower."

Men as a group are larger and heavier than women of the same age. This means that, to begin with, they eat more, since all feeding is measured by the weight of the individual in proportion to height. Aside from this small difference, all adult feeding depends on the kind and amount of work done, whether it is sedentary and mental work, or active and physical. Let us take the case of the adult bookkeeper who sits at a desk indoors for about eight hours, and who has no time for physical exercise. His work brings the flow of blood to his head, and not so much into his arms and legs. His circulation is slower, since he is breathing less oxygen, and all his bodily activities are slower. What shall he eat?

Food for the sedentary man should be sparing in fat, especially in the indigestible forms, sparing too in the starches from which energy is also derived, since, as he sits all day, he is using little energy compared with the postman who walks or the lumberman who chops all day. Again, because of his constant sitting, there is need for little protein. If we feed protein in large quantities to an inactive body, already matured to its full size, we are merely forcing it with excess material which it cannot use, resulting in waste and uric acid, and encouraging tendencies to gout and rheumatism. The brain worker needs to have his bodily apparatus kept very clear; therefore the less clogging food, the better. Far better for him is a diet of moderate amount of protein, very little starch and sweets and an abundance of vegetables and fruits to counteract all sluggish tendencies.

For the brain worker, too, foods should be in the most digestible form. He has no means of "working off" the effects of such food; combinations as waffles and syrup, rich sauces, heavy meats and puddings and pastries, especially if he must return to work immediately after eating. There is no worse mistake than to eat a heavy meal (which draws the blood to the stomach) and then expect to return to work and try to get the use of that blood immediately in one's head.

On the other hand, the man who drives an express wagon, who is using muscle to hammer, or walk, or swing implements, or who is merely sitting in the outdoors all day, needs entirely different foods. He is the man who should have a good cook for a wife, since only he can really do justice to elaborate cooking. Of course, there are gradations from the mind-using to the muscle-using man; but generally it follows that the muscle-using man can eat larger quantities of protein without harm since he is able to "work it off" in exercise; he can eat tremendous quantities of "heartly" foods, fried foods, puddings, sweets and starches and not feel any bilious or other bad effects.

When we come to the subject of the adult woman we have many things to consider. Is she active, with housework and family duties, and the added drudgery of childbearing and care, or is her life one of sedentary habits, say, at a teacher's desk? Is she fat, or is she thin?

What has been said above on the difference between foods for sedentary versus active occupations holds true with women as well as men. Men as a group do more muscular work than women and consequently eat more. But if a woman does the same amount of muscular work that a man does we find that she uses the same amount of energy and thus needs the same amount of food.

Many women who do their own housework are also likely to fall into another error—that of eating almost nothing at all, or what is called a "snack lunch," or only a cup of coffee and a cold "left-over" from the icebox. This is a mistake. A woman doing housework, sweeping, washing, climbing stairs, etc., needs a thorough meal and time in which to eat it quietly when she is finished.

Secrets of Beauty

PLEASE advise me of a remedy for excessive oil on the hair. I am a blonde and have pretty hair, but it begins to get oily about four days after the shampoo. —N. P. B.

A few drops of ammonia or a teaspoonful of soda, will soon brighten your hair and cut out the superfluous oil, but as these substances are extremely drying in effect they must be used with great care. The following is a most excellent shampoo for oily hair:

Say rum 1 quart
Water 1/2 pint
Tincture of cantharides 1/2 ounce
Carbonate of ammonia 1/2 ounce
Carbonate of potash 1/2 ounce

Apply a little of the liquid with the tips of the fingers; massage it thoroughly into the hair and scalp. When this has dried rinse the hair with water and dry once more in the sunshine.

WILL you kindly tell me how without legs may be made slender? —MILDRED C.

All the natural sports that can be indulged in out of doors are especially helpful in reducing legs that have grown too stout for beauty. Walking, running, swimming, dancing, tennis and golf are all excellent. Walking up and down hills or going up and down stairs frequently will also aid greatly in their symmetrical development. Practice stationary running in your room, i. e., place your hands on your hips and, without moving from one spot, start running and gradually increase your speed up to your limit. Do this for five minutes twice daily.

YOU will greatly oblige me by advising a good remedy for pimples, freckles and blackheads. —M. C.

Your skin will more quickly acquire a delicate tint and texture by keeping your bodily health good and by exercising the most constant vigilance in cleansing the skin with a good soap than by any other means. Remember that no real lasting beauty can be secured for the skin short of its absolute healthiness. Scrub the face nightly with a pure castile soap and afterward apply this mixture, which is very effective for the removal of both tan and blackheads, as well as freckles:

Ammonia water 1 ounce
Say rum 1 ounce
Rosewater 1 ounce
Powdered borax 1 ounce
Glycerine 1/2 ounce
Distilled water 10 ounces

WILL you please tell me of a good shampoo for oily hair? Soap leaves my hair sticky and gummy. When brushed it won't fluff up or look as if it had any life to it. —ETHEL F.

There are many shampoos especially prepared for use with oily hair, but we cannot recommend any proprietary makes in these columns. The reason soap leaves your hair in a sticky, unpleasant condition is primarily due to the fact that you do not rinse your hair thoroughly enough afterward. The following shampoo is particularly congenial to moist, oily hair, but it should never be used oftener than once a week:

Bicarbonate of soda 1/2 ounce
Borax 1/2 ounce
Cologne water 4 ounces
Rectified spirits 2 ounces
Tincture of cochineal 1 ounce
Distilled water 10 ounces

WILL you please publish a new way to reduce the bust? —E.

I advise no woman to attempt to reduce her bust without first consulting her physician. The daily application of cold water compresses and the use of ice-cold bandages are recommended as an aid in this direction. But you will find that daily arm and shoulder exercises are the best for this purpose. Above all, wear tight-fitting bras and do not allow yourself to become loose and shapeless-looking in your clothes.

CAN anything be done for the removal of superfluous hair besides using the electric needle? —READER.

Electricity is, of course, the safest and most effective remedy for this blemish, but by applying a clear solution of peroxide of hydrogen to the hair daily for six months or more they will be sufficiently bleached to render their presence practically unnoticeable. A few drops of ammonia added to the peroxide makes an even more powerful bleach and will eventually kill off the roots of the hairs entirely, but this combination is so strong that its use must be resorted to with extreme caution.

PLEASE suggest a simple remedy for freckles. —R. F.

One of the simplest I have ever tried is the daily application of this:

Water 1 wineglass
Peroxide of hydrogen 15 drops
Leave this on the skin for fifteen minutes, then remove it by massaging the face with cold cream or with rosewater.

The Truth About Honeymoons

THE idea that the honeymoon is the brightest, happiest time in the existence of married people is one of the greatest fallacies on record.

Every experienced person knows that the first year or so of married life is simply a training school for the life to follow. There are many hard lessons to learn and many serious questions to answer. When two young people begin life together they find the first few years at best a series of arduous climbs up unknown and untraveled paths. The way is usually beset by many bewildering obstacles.

But as time rolls on the rough edges wear down, and for a period of years things run on a smooth, level course. This state continues through middle life and until we reach the downward grade and begin to go down the hill.

This middle life is the real essence of happiness. It is the true goal, which, having attained and enjoyed, we can always reconcile ourselves with the thought that, come what may, "it has been."

This is the time when the goddess Happiness turns her smiling and evasive face toward us, and we deem this earthly living worth while. Middle life, matrimonially considered, occurs generally between thirty-five and forty-five years of age. It comes just at the time when a man and woman are ripe and ready for the wholesome enjoyment of all the good things of life, when selfishness has been wiped out by actual living, when healthy natural interests and habits are centered and established, when association has done wonders in developing a more tender regard and a deeper love than mere sentiment alone can inspire. Life then becomes broad and doubly interesting as seen through the combined eyes of a healthy, loving man and woman. The man's comprehensive, sane understanding and rigid judgment is melted and made tender by the woman's sympathetic, keen, intuitive grasp of things.

This is the time when good, hard sense and good comradeship count more in a woman's category of charms than the glint of a stray lock or the turn of an ankle; when clean life and good habits rank a man higher than wit and cleverness of speech, combined with the presence of an Adonis. In other words, this is the time when people see with their eyes opened; there is no deception.

Real enjoyment is obtained, in middle life from all things that are genuinely enjoyable. One is neither too old nor too young. Our knowledge of life gives zest to its blessings. We are living now—to-day is vital—hence enjoyment is ripe.

When, during a couple's first years together things seem to conspire against them and the way is dark, when the whole scheme of living seems a failure—then let them realize that the happy goal is still beyond. Let nothing daunt them in their endeavor to attain this happy middle life experience since it is the climax, the real ideal existence, and well worth striving for. The happiness it brings makes the honeymoon days seem tame by comparison.

Beginnings are never especially pleasant. Surely no one would want to go back to babyhood! The Spring may be rainy and sweet-scented, but there are many damp, chilly days, and we look forward to the warm days of full midsummer. There is always more or less sympathy for the novice in any line of business. First steps are always weak and uncertain, and it is not until one has had many falls and bumps that perfect walking can be expected.

The honeymoon of life is the first stage, but the harvest moon is the middle stage, the time when two people have really learned to walk together and keep in perfect step not only with one another, but with the rest of their world.

Household Helps

Removing a Cork.

TO remove a cork that has been pushed inside a bottle tie a button to a stout piece of twine and drop it inside. Turn the bottle upside down, and when the cork enters the neck in front of the button it can be readily extracted by a quick pull on the cord.

Salt in Olive Oil.

A PINCH of salt added to olive oil will do away with the taste that is so unpleasant to many.

To Save Butter.

CANNED lima beans are very acceptable without butter if seasoned with salt, pepper and a little grated onion.

An Egg Saver.

WHEN a cake recipe calls for three or more eggs you can omit one of them if you substitute for it an extra teaspoonful of baking powder.

Attractive Hair

By Lina Cavallieri,
The Most Famous Living Beauty.

AMONG the recipes and bits of helpful advice which I can least afford to miss the opportunity of passing on to other women are many which have to do with the hair. The woman who wants to wear her hair parted, but finds this manner a trifle unbecoming because the roots of the hair are darker than the ends will welcome this treatment.

Shampoo at least once a week. Use the juice of two lemons in a quart of water for the shampoo. Occasionally substitute for the lemon juice a tablespoonful of ammonia. Rub this well into the roots when washing the hair.

The best way to make dead brown hair rich and glossy is to rebuild one's general health. The hair and teeth are fairly safe barometers of the vitality. Abundant, glossy hair is usually the index of perfect health. If you are sure to take faithfully the wholesome tonics of plenty of fresh air, of exercise out of doors, of simple, nourishing food, your hair will inevitably share your vigor.

Much brushing will, of course, make the hair finer and more lustrous, especially if the hair is kept perfectly clean. No one could ask for a more satisfactory shampoo than the following: Water, 1 cup; 1 egg; tincture of green soap, 1 teaspoonful; cologne, 1 teaspoonful. Mix thoroughly and rub well into the scalp.

The best way to stimulate the hair and make it grow rapidly is by massaging the scalp every day and by vigorous brushing. To get rid of dandruff without making your hair either oily or dry, first give the scalp frequent shampoos. Every other day, or even daily, is not too often for a week or two if the case be an obstinate one. After shampooing and on other nights rub carefully into the scalp a tablespoonful or more of the following: Bay rum, 2½ ounces; olive oil, ½ ounce; tincture of cantharides, ½ ounce.

Sometimes after a serious illness, like the "flu" or typhoid fever, one's scalp becomes dry and the hair comes out very rapidly. For such condition massage well into the roots every morning and evening the following: Oil of sweet almonds, 45 grams; essence of rosemary, 45 grams; oil of mace, 2 grams.

Brown hair that is becoming streaked with gray may be darkened with henna water. One handful of henna to a quart of water is the right proportion. Boil down until there is only a pint of liquid. First shampoo the hair thoroughly. Then, when dry, apply the henna liquid, rubbing it well into the roots and allowing it to dry in. Rinse very carefully and dry once more in the sunshine. Do not be discouraged if the first application fails to bring the desired results.

I have told of the simplest shampoo I know. In addition I would suggest that brunettes who wish to preserve the glossy darkness of their hair will find this beneficial: Rum or red wine, 1 glassful; yolk of one egg.

There is no arbitrary usage in the matter of singeing the ends of the hair. When the ends are badly split along them. There is no need any other time. But I have noticed that the need is likely to occur in my hair about once in two months. The singeing should always precede the shampoo, for the odor of burnt hair is not a desirable fragrance.

One word more concerning the hair. Be scrupulous about your brushes. If necessary dip them into a bowl of lather made of white castile soap every day after the morning brushing. A half a dozen drops of ammonia in the water will help to cleanse them. Rinse them thoroughly, so that no particle of the soap remains.

I have said that the scalp must be kept cool. Brushing helps to preserve this condition. I have known girls who came home tired after a day at business to wrap a few bits of ice in a towel and place it upon the flushed and burning scalp, feverish from a day of intense mental activity. This soon cools the scalp, relieves the congestion in the head and sends the blood flushing toward other centers. Massage is also good to relieve the congestion.

Tested Cheese Recipes

By Mary Lee Swann,
The Well-Known Writer and Lecturer on Cooking.

Cheese Souffle.

MELT 2½ tablespoons of butter, add 2½ tablespoons flour sifted with ¼ teaspoon soda and a few grains of paprika or cayenne. About ¼ teaspoon mustard may be added if desired. Add gradually ½ cup milk and stir until thick and smooth. Add 1 cup grated cheese and 3 well-beaten egg yolks. Beat well and fold in 3 stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into buttered baking dish and bake in a moderate oven until firm in centre, about ½ hour.

Cheese Cream Filling.

MELT ¼ cup butter, add ¼ cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon paprika. Blend well and add 1½ cups milk. Cook until smooth and thick, stirring constantly. Then add 2 egg yolks beaten with ¼ cup grated cheese. Cook slowly until egg is "set." Remove from fire. When cold add ¼ or ½ cup cream beaten until stiff.

Cheese and Celery Leaf.

MIX 1 cup grated cheese, 1 teaspoon salt, a dash of pepper, 4 tablespoons melted butter, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 eggs and ½ cup cooked celery cut into small pieces. Have ready 8 thin slices of bread. Spread the cheese and celery mixture on bread. Pile into a baking dish and pour ½ cup milk over the bread. Bake in a moderate oven until firm in centre.

Cheese Balls.

CREAM 1 cup Neufchatel or cottage cheese until smooth. Add 2 tablespoons cream, ¼ teaspoon paprika and a pinch of salt and blend well. Add ½ cup chopped English walnuts or pecans and ¼ cup chopped stuffed olives. Chill, shape into small balls with butter paddles.

Hints for the Busy Housewife

A Rich Meat Color.

IF you want your soup a rich, dark meat color, but can't spare the meat, use a little burnt sugar dissolved in water.

Buying Prunes.

IT is poor economy to buy small, shriveled prunes, even if they are cheaper, for they contain as much stone waste as the larger ones.

Using Bacon Rinds.

THE rinds of bacon and salt pork add a pleasing flavor and richness when cooked with spinach or greens of any kind or in pea or bean soup.

Aprons from Shirts.

MEN'S partly worn shirts can be made into attractive house aprons by using the back breadth as the front of the apron, adding shoulder straps, strings, pockets, etc., made from the sleeves, and trimming with braid of a contrasting color.

Save the Pineapple Cores.

PUT the cores and peelings of pineapple into a kettle and cover with warm water. Add a teaspoonful of ginger and let simmer on the back of the stove all day. The juice when strained and cooled makes a delicious beverage.

NO CHINA TRADE WITH RUSSIANS DECREES CHANG

Soviet System Is Condemned By Chinese General In Message

(CHINA PRESS Correspondence)

Peking, Dec. 25.—According to telegraphic advices received here from Harbin General Chang Hsueh-shan, chief of the former Chinese Mission to Moscow, stated to the Russian Consul that he had neither authorized nor concluded a treaty, with the Soviets, although the Bolsheviks had made desperate efforts towards this end.

The General stated that he considered it absolutely impossible for China to carry on trade with Russia and expressed himself as astounded that the unilateral power of the Soviets should have held its own for so long.

General Chang, who is said to have spoken with deep conviction and strong feeling, stated in conclusion that the future of the world is fraught with the gravest possibilities unless action is taken against the Soviets now. His mission was greatly delayed on its way back to the Far East; and half of the supplies sent to it for distribution among the Chinese in Russia and Siberia were confiscated.

Postal communication between Harbin and Russia is interrupted, and it is rumored that this interruption is due to uprisings against the Chita Government. Railway traffic in this region is likewise interrupted.

Alarm is felt in Harbin over the possibility of a strike of the Russian police force, which will entail grave consequences to the Russian population of the city. The strike will, it is called, be due to the fact that the Chinese have failed to pay the salaries of the police.

Izzet Pasha, Sent To Angora, Is Silent

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, December 25.—According to advices from Constantinople the Turkish Government is still without news of Izzet Pasha who has been sent on a mission to Angora, the Nationalist stronghold, where he is understood to have arrived on December 5. It is expected that the Turkish Government will recall Izzet unless he explains his long silence.

ENTER INTO TRADE WITH TIBET THROUGH Mr. Eddy Widler TATSIENTU-SZCHUAN-PROV.-CHINA

TO THE Ladies and Daughters of the Foreign Community of China, I take off my hat and send you Greetings. I thank you heartily for the remittances which you have sent me, in payment for Tibetan Foxskins which you have ordered. Some of you have been impatient, because Tibetan Foxskins have not reached you soon enough—to which I can only say I am located more than 2,000 miles distant from Shanghai and that it takes about two months before you can expect a reply from me. To the numerous Customers who have appreciated the Tibetan Foxskins, I can only thank you for the kind support and assure you of my very best efforts on your behalf.

The Tibetan Foxskin has made a hit, and no wonder—such wonderful large pelts—such downy fur and over-hair of exquisite fineness and beauty. Send Postal Money Order for $25.00 cost of one Tibetan Foxskin, and you'll get what you ask for.

Share Market

Messrs. J. P. Bisset and Company write as follows in their share report for week ending December 24:

The closing of Settlement accounts, due on the 23rd instant, has taken up the time and attention of the majority on the share market since the issue of our last circular and consequently there has been very little change in quotations generally. Docks rose during the week and have been doing at Tls. 125 since the declaration of the interim dividend of Tls. 6 per share. New Engineering have also recovered slightly and buyers are today offering Tls. 2 1/2.

Anglo-German Brewery Co.

LIQUIDATION PROCEDURE

Mr. J. C. Thomson was elected a liquidator of the Anglo-German Brewery Co., Ltd., on Friday afternoon at a meeting held at the British Chamber of Commerce Room.

Mr. John Prentice, liquidator, presided, and was supported by Mr. J. C. Thomson (Secretary), Mr. R. N. Macleod (Legal Advisor), Messrs. W. S. Burns, A. J. Hughes, F. W. Sutterle and others.

The Chairman stated that as at the extraordinary general meeting of the Company held on 31st July 1916, the first resolution was as follows:—

That the Company be wound up voluntarily and that Clarence Ward Wrightson, Edward Jenner Hogg, John Prentice and James Johnston be and they are hereby appointed Liquidators for the purpose of such winding up with power for any two of them to act alone for the purpose of such winding up, and that Messrs. Wrightson, Jenner Hogg and James Johnston had all died in the meantime, and there was now only one liquidator (Mr. Prentice), the Company's legal advisors considered that it was advisable to appoint another liquidator, and after consultation a had been decided to propose that Mr. J. C. Thomson, who had kept the books and accounts since the Company went into liquidation, should be appointed a liquidator, and that this meeting had been called for that purpose.

Mr. Hughes seconded the motion which was carried unanimously.

Mr. R. N. Macleod said that the liquidation was now practically complete, with the exception that there was a difficulty of distribution of assets arising from certain claims from two firms, and a charge on the property at Teing-tai in respect to a mortgage to Japanese to cover a loan of $50,000. He was of opinion that steps might be taken to consult the Japanese authorities with regard to getting this charge removed from the register, but proceedings in the British Court might be necessary to get an order of discharge entered. Meanwhile there was no reason why the remainder of the assets should not be distributed.

Mr. Prentice stated that application had been made some time ago to the British Supreme Court that permission be granted to proceed with the distribution of the assets, and it was proposed to proceed by issuing further notices to those who had claims, and then come to the Court again. There seemed little doubt that they would get leave to proceed with the distribution, except with regard to the charge of $50,000 previously referred to.

Catalogued for Sale: 1,949,287

lbs. (about 870 tons).

Sold: 1,306,537 lbs. (about 583 tons).

Our auction started yesterday morning to a very poor attendance.

Quotations from London were again reported lower, and this fact had a marked effect on prices for practically all grades. Sellers were not keen on meeting buyers in the way of prices, and large quantities were withdrawn.

Standard Ribbed Smoked Sheet

sold up to 36 1/2 cents, 35 cents being the average price of the sale.

One lot fetched 37 cents. The

1/2 cent since last week.

Comparatively few lots of

up to 36 1/2 cents, one lot going for 37 1/2 cents. Most of the lots catalogued were withdrawn.

Off Quality Sheet met with a similar demand as last week, and prices were practically unchanged.

Off Color Latex Crepe were slightly lower on the week, which was also the case with Fine Brown

Crepe for which there was only a fair demand. Lower Grades of Crepe proved of rather greater interest with the result that prices improved slightly since last sale.

The position was practically unchanged at the continuation this morning.
